1/10/72 Paul Valentine phoned to say that Dick Harwood, now national editor, has personally refused to authorize his coming here here to see what I have that is relevant to the Graham-Lattimer story. I phoned Paul in advance of the story's breaking, telling him that something of the sort was about to but I had to protect the rights of my source, even though it was not in my interest to do this. Paul will come on his own time when he can, not for several weeks.
